

I DON'T EVEN KNOW YET
©2001 DAREN THOMAS TURNER

hey there, likeness of a dream i've never seen before delicate and all by yourself where did you go? what did you feel? oh, when you were next to me satin was the silk that i felt look what you've done to me, oh...

hey babe, wouldn't you agree that it's a mystery the moment that i slip inside of you oh don't 'cha know, i'll never go, oh, it feels forever so, do that to me slower and again look what you did to me...

and what i said is better best and what i say is news to me and i say i've failed the test but the prisoner is free and i'm waiting for a kiss and i think i'm gonna come and i hope my dying wish is not the only one now i lay myself to gentle sleep and i will pray the lord my soul to keep if i should die or so before i wake i pray the lord, oh please, my soul to take i never got a better rest and the bed will never sleep if i'm getting what i get then she is so the one for me when the night becomes the day and the darkness comes undone on my knees i bow and pray 'cause she's the only one

i don't even know yet...
