

PALE DEVOTION
©2001 DAREN THOMAS TURNER

did you ever climb the apple trees in late september?
finished like the purple
in your wine

wishing wells are like the apple trees and shady meadows
the places where i used to hide and they seem so far away and the promises i made and the prayers

and to think i let it go and i wonder if she knows that i'm still here

did you ever climb the apple trees in late september.....
